2015 SOCIAL CURRENCY

It is when we come together with the ones we love most, that we share life's currency of laughter and happiness and create those memories. Social Currency is meant to be the vehicle that facilitates those shared moments that will live on forever. When our time is done here, the money and material things are no more. The true riches are the friendships and moments spent with those we care for most.

"Beautiful, intoxicating aromas of violets, blackberry, black pepper, coffee bean. Massive, plush mouthful with tiers of dark fruit, exotic spice, stone. True to Social Currency, this has a texture of liquid silk over a dense but plush structural core of wonderfully sweet dark fruit and fine tannin. Totally seductive and delicious while showing great elegance and power. The finish pushes on forever, drawing out the dark fruit and floral flavors. A great Social Currency."
